General Comment

Please do not pass this legislation with regards to blocking options trading in IRA accounts. Many rational investors use option to protect against losses and volatility in the market. Options can safely be used to minimize risk inherent in the market. Limiting options in an IRA is tantamount to leaving retirement accounts without protection and disabling our investment freedom. There is no grand protection afforded us by the overbearing reach of this legislation. It is actually INCREASING risk in the market not reducing it.

Thank you,

Edward Campbell MD
